THE FAT LOSS LAB

Secret to fat loss

There are three main hormones controlling your metabolism, which is the way your body synergises the proteins, carbohydrates, and fats you eat to form tissue and store energy.

HUMAN GROWTH HORMONE

Responsible for fat-burning, skin elasticity, muscle growth, and anti-aging.

INSULIN

Regulates blood sugar levels.

SEROTONIN

The "feel-good hormone" that also controls food cravings.

When you have a weight problem, your HGH levels drop unnaturally, and serotonin is not properly discharged in the brain. Your body also releases high levels of insulin. As a result, you constantly crave food and gain weight, regardless of how much – or how little – you eat.

The Fat Loss Lab's Weight Loss Regime relies on correct hormonal stabilisation and balance - using proper nutrition, coupled with sound multivitamin and omega 3 supplements. We do not count calories. Instead, our program is based on a natural chemical reaction using all food types, quantities and combinations.

WHAT MAKES FAT LOSS LAB UNIQUE?

Our program is unique because it is based on medical results, obtained from your specific set of blood tests. These blood tests allow for an analysis of certain aspects of your system, which indicate what we need to do to get your body's hormones back into balance.

OUR UNIQUELY FORMULATED Supplements

Fat Loss Lab BALANCE, a unique combination of ingredients including Irvingia Gabonensis and Cissus Quarangularis, the UK and Singapore's biggest weight management product combination that has taken the world by storm. These ingredients are premium quality, patented and are clinically tested. Fat Loss Lab BALANCE also contains Chromium Polynicotinate and Banaba Extract which are proven to help lower and maintain healthy blood glucose levels.

In addition to the above, Fat Loss Lab BALANCE contains Fucoxanthin which is clinically proven to help breakdown white adipose tissue (soft fat) which is found predominantly in women's thighs and buttocks and men's stomach. Fucoxanthin has also been known to increase the level of liver docosahexaenoic acid (DHA), a key Omega-3 functional fatty acid.

We also have Fat Loss Lab Omega 3 and Fat Loss Lab Multivitamin to keep you going as you adjust your diet. Using Fat Loss Lab supplements along with your targeted Fat Loss Lab diet, will help in achieving your weight loss goals faster, whilst maintaining healthy blood glucose levels and breaking down white fat.

Case Study: Kalekye Mumu (lost 40kgs)

Although radio personality Kalekye Mumu had always suffered immense job-related stress, she had never wanted to be thin. Her size had actually become part of her identity, and she considered herself “that plus-size celebrity model in Kenya.” It was only when a doctor recommended she lose weight that she realised things were heading for the worst. Her knees were wearing thin, and her legs were swollen.

“My doctor said if I don’t lose this weight, I could get a blood clot,” she remembers. “He said what was happening to me was a sign of something bad happening in my life. That is when I took the issue seriously.”

Kalekye enrolled with the Fat Loss Lab, and this helped her lose 40kgs. Following her doctor’s recommendation, she didn’t incorporate gym into her weight loss regime. “My programme was strictly diet based,” she says. “It was down to what to eat and how often, so that my body did the work naturally and I didn’t end up saggy.” Kalekye’s programme was designed by a doctor, who did blood tests to work out her hormonal imbalance. “I was also given a meal plan to follow, based on a weight target I set for myself,” she said.

Case Study: Jody du Plessis, 54

Jody came to us feeling under massive pressure from her business. She was experiencing huge hormonal imbalances and was 20kgs overweight. At the age of 53, her main struggles were with her hormones, and an inability to lose the extra weight, no matter what she tried. Jody had very serious health issues and was taking a cocktail of medication to cope with her hormonal issues. Her cortisol levels, in particular, were extremely unbalanced.

Because of her hormonal imbalance, she was faced with sleep deprivation, moodiness, cravings, lack of energy, and saggy and pale skin, among a host of other issues.

Since coming to us, Jody has lost a total of 23 kgs, and her life has done a complete turnaround. She enjoys a much better quality of life, which includes an abundance of energy and strong, sound sleep patterns.

She gained control of her food cravings and is less moody and irritable. Her anti-ageing hormones have activated, and she looks much more youthful with great skin elasticity.

Case Study: Joy Wanjala, 34

"I have always been the happy-go-lucky, socially fit girl who was unafraid to pursue her dreams - or so I thought," says Joy. "After having my three children, my weight and self-esteem somehow just started spiralling out of control - life really can play a number on us. I let go of so much - yet it was always within me to get up and do it."

Joy recalls the many times she put her gym clothes on in the morning, but then ended up enjoying an unhealthy breakfast while watching weight loss programmes on television. She always hoped they would inspire her to get to the gym, but they never did.

Having been in the media for a long time, hosting the TV show, Grapevine, Joy slowly started withdrawing from the limelight. "I told myself this was to focus on my family," she says, "but as time went by, I realised that for me to feel good enough to get back on the career wagon, I had to start feeling the way I did before - confident, strong and passionate about what I do." This created the motivation Joy needed, and she finally, in her words, "mustered the courage to grow."

"It has taken workout, friends, my husband and my willpower to get here," she says. "And, of course, my desire to get back on the career path with nothing holding me back. I'm glad I came across Fat Loss Lab - this journey has been life-changing. I'm definitely enjoying my life now. And that means my husband and my children are enjoying me more. I am a better me."
